Apprenticeships

Apprenticeships offer the chance to earn a wage whilst learning. An apprenticeship combines practical training in a job alongside study. You will mainly train in the workplace but may also attend college or a specialist training provider as part of your apprenticeship standard. As an apprentice you will be employed from day one, in a job aligned to your study.

Apprentices are entitled to the apprentice rate if they're either:

- aged under 19
- aged 19 or over and in the first year of their apprenticeship

The current apprentice rate is £4.15 per hour, although it should be noted that many employers pay above this hourly rate.

Further details about the national minimum hourly rate and the national living wage can be found at <https://www.gov.uk/national-minimum-wage-rates>.

Apprenticeships are now available in most industry sectors:

- Agriculture, Horticulture, Environmental and Animal care including land-based industries.
- Beauty and Wellbeing, Sports and Fitness.
- Creative, Arts, Media and Publishing.
- Digital, Business and IT, Finance, Administration and Law.
- Construction, Planning and The Built Environment.
- Education & Training.
- Engineering, Electrical & Manufacturing Technologies and Logistics.
- Health, Public Services and Care.
- Science, Research and Development.
- Energy, Marine, Vehicles and Transport.
- Hospitality, Leisure, Travel & Tourism.
- Customer Service, Retail and Commercial Enterprise.
- Charity and Volunteering.

Further details of all the apprenticeships offered in these industries can be found at <http://www.apprenticeshipguide.co.uk/apprenticeship-by-industry-sector/> www.gov.uk/topic/further-education-skills/apprenticeships#types-of-apprenticeships

Levels of apprenticeships:

Apprenticeship Name	Level	Equivalent educational level
Intermediate	2	5 GCSE passes at grades A* to C or 9 – 4
Advanced	3	A level passes / Level 3 Diploma / International Baccalaureate / T Level
Higher	4 and 5	Foundation degree and above
Degree	6 and 7	Bachelor's or Master's degree

Apprenticeships can take 1 to 5 years to complete depending on their level.

Entry requirements vary, but for Intermediate and Advanced Apprenticeships most employers look for GCSE grades 4 to 9 in at least English, maths and, for some jobs, a science or a technology subject. Many employers expect applicants to be able to demonstrate a basic level of ICT skills. For Higher and Degree Apprenticeships most employers look for A levels or equivalent qualifications (BTEC Level 3 Extended Diploma and/or Foundation Degree, HNC, HND). It is important to look at each apprenticeship's entry requirements.

You will need to be well prepared for an apprenticeship. You should do some research on the industries of interest and the company or companies offering apprenticeships; look at the different roles on offer and think about which one(s) interest you the most. Remember you will be competing against other people for the apprenticeship and knowing why you want the job and how your skills link to that type of apprenticeship will be important. Ideally, you should also try and do some work experience or take part in something that allows you to demonstrate you have the skills for that job (for example being the finance director for your Year 11 business enterprise challenge or being the team leader on your Duke of Edinburgh Expedition). Doing some preparation will help you confirm your interest in the apprenticeship area and prepare you for when you get invited for an interview.

How to find an apprenticeship Option 1:

To look for national and local apprenticeship vacancies go to the apprenticeship website:

- www.gov.uk/apply-apprenticeship

Most employers are now encouraged to advertise their apprenticeship vacancies on this Government site but not all do. Your local Jobcentre may also have details of apprenticeships in the local area or listings of companies willing to take on apprentices.

An alternative site to try would be:

- <https://www.getmyfirstjob.co.uk/>

This site offers apprenticeship and traineeship matching with employers and some education establishments.

How to find an apprenticeship Option 2:

Get in touch with your local and national training providers, colleges and employers that offer apprenticeship opportunities.

Remember that with some of the training providers and colleges, you will be required to find your own employer, so be sure to ask how the training provider or college will work with you and support you with this.

How to find an apprenticeship Option 3: Finding an employer yourself

Look on the yellow pages online at <https://www.yell.com/>

Search for the type(s) of company you would like to work for and where.

A list will appear detailing their address, phone and web site details which you can add to a short list and print out as well as look up on a map.

Look on the company websites to see if they have any suitable jobs or apprenticeship vacancies. Apply if interested.

A lot of companies nowadays like you to apply online via their company website.

If there are no suitable vacancies, but you are still interested in that company, contact them via phone, email, post or in person with your CV and a covering letter asking about suitable opportunities.

General hints & tips:

- Make sure your CV is up to date and get it checked by several people for mistakes. If you email a CV & covering letter don't use a silly email address e.g. judeyjooyay@hotmail.com - be professional.
- When handing in your CV & covering letter in person, dress smartly just in case the manager is available to see you straight away. Make a good first impression.
- Apply for as many things as you can and then accept the best offer.
- Tell your friends and family what sort of job or apprenticeship you hope to get, and they can help you look.
- Practise your interview technique before the real thing.
<https://amazingapprenticeships.com/app/uploads/2019/09/Parent-Pack-May-Pg3-Interview-Qs.pdf>
- Ask for help from a career practitioner, teacher or parent if you need help completing an application form.
- No idea what sort of apprenticeship or job you want? BOOK A CAREERS INTERVIEW NOW!

Traineeships

What is a Traineeship?

A Traineeship is an education and training programme with work experience focused on giving you the skills and experience that employers are looking for. At its core are work preparation training, English and maths for those who need it, and a high-quality work experience placement.

To check whether you are eligible and whether a Traineeship is the correct route for you talk to your school careers practitioner or visit the Gov.uk website:

<https://www.gov.uk/government/collections/traineeships-programme>

<https://www.hants.gov.uk/educationandlearning/hampshirefutures/yourfuture/workingandtraining/traineeshipplus>

Note: Many of the training providers in this guide also offer traineeships; please visit their websites for details.
